My apologies about the attachments, here they are. No need to worry about the edits over the weekend, I've checked with OCFO and submitting a response back on Monday will work with their schedule. Good luck with the moves!

Thank you,

Greg—

I'm in meetings for the remainder of the day. I'm not in the office tomorrow, as I have to pick up my son from college, move him into his new apartment, and then return to DC by the end of the day. I will not have email access until Saturday morning. So, I can get any revisions back to you on Saturday, but not before. My apologies.

I also didn't receive the attachment.

Hi Rick,

We've received some edits and comments from OMB on your budget narratives. You will see several comments on budget policy issues that I have responded to indicating that we are rejecting OMB's request or their edits – this is per OCFO's direction to not change language that was written or directed by the Agency's policy team. Please review the other edits and comments and make changes as necessary. Can you please provide your edits by Noon tomorrow?

Thank you,
Greg
